

Among the hot weather items reaching my desk is American Cyanamid company's announcement of a new bathing suit made of paper. Continues the trade item:

"Made of paper treated with Melostrength Resin, these experimental suits were shown at an exhibit in New York City sponsored by American Cyanamid company, whose chemical makes this paper strong even when wet."

But I admit to a popular prejudice — the fear that upon entering the water wearing a paper bathing suit I would soon be hunting frantically for a missing page.

Unperturbed by the hysteria which is currently supporting Senator Joe McCarthy and his many "investigations" President Eisenhower lashed out vigorously and courageously against "book burners" who would suppress free speech and press, in a talk to Dartmouth college's 600 graduates at Hanover, N. H., Sunday.

Mr. Eisenhower pointed out that every American has the right to speak and publish his ideas even though they are "contrary to ours," and then delivered this clincher:

"We have got to fight it (Communism) with something better, not try to conceal the thinking of our own people. They are part of America, and even if they think ideas that are contrary to ours, their right to say them, their right to record them, and their right to have them in places where they are accessible to others is unquestioned, or it is not American."

Mr. Eisenhower's words have the familiar ring of that famous line by the late Senator Jim Reed of Missouri:

"Liberty is the right to be wrong."

But I am glad that the President has taken his stand.

A lot of us are getting fed up with the spectacle of an elective official — whether he be a United States senator or a justice of the peace — assuming to tell Americans what to read, what to think, and implying we have to conform to his policy "or else."

In America we have the happy faculty of calling an elective official a lingo one year, and a skunk the next.

It's not consistent, "but it's a swell way for a free people to live. We must like it, because our ancestors had it the other way hundreds of years ago in Europe and fled to a new land."

And believe you me, we'll hold onto American freedom only as long as we depend on the guarantee of law — defying to the last ditch, every elective official who attempts to set himself up as prosecutor, jury and judge.

At this point I borrow from a legal friend a formula by which Joe McCarthy can make himself an honest man:

If Joe wants to be a prosecutor instead of a senator let him resign his elective office and by arrangement with the White House take a prosecutor's appointment in the Department of Justice. There the prosecution game is played by the established rules of law — and McCarthy would quickly lose his tin-god complex.

I'm not against Joe's avowed objective in rooting out traitors. But I am against the threat to the rights of common men posed by Joe's turning the elective senate chamber into a courtroom — a threat which would cause the late Thomas Jefferson to rise up from his grave and walk barefoot to Washington shouting "Ty-ranny!" at every step.

No Sharp Cut in Draft Is Visioned

By JOHN W. FINNEY

WASHINGTON (UP) — Defense officials cautioned the public today against expecting a sharp drop in draft calls if a truce is reached in Korea.

Mr. Gen. E. C. Oynch, director of the Defense Department's office of manpower requirements, said there will be "no substantial change" in draft calls for probably six months.

Even after that, he did not anticipate that draft calls would drop much from the present low rate of about 23,000 inductees monthly. Behind Lynch's prediction is Defense Secretary Charles E. Wilson's recent warning that it will be at least six months before it will be possible to start reducing the Army in Korea. The Defense Department position is that a truce in Korea will not mean final peace and it would be dangerous to succumb to another "bring the boys home" feeling such as swept the nation after World War II.

Harris Seeking Aid for Local Hospital

WASHINGTON (UP) — Rep. Owen Harris (D-Ark.) has introduced an amendment to a federal hospital program bill which may cause a major shift in Arkansas' hospital program.

Harris' amendment would prevent more than 60 per cent of federal funds in excess of one million dollars received by any state from being used for hospital construction in any one service area.

The bill which Harris would amend is designed to extend the federal hospital program for two years beyond June 30, 1955.

A bill appropriating 50 million dollars for the hospital program already has passed the House and now is in the Senate. The bill shaved 10 millions from the 60 million dollars for the hospital program already has passed the House and now is in the Senate. The bill shaved 10 millions from the 60 million dollars recommended by the Eisenhower administration. The Truman administration had budgeted 75 million dollars for the hospital program.

Arkansas' share of the appropriation is $1,095,000, programmed mostly for the University Medical Center and St. Vincent's Infirmary at Little Rock.

Arkansas originally had planned a $1,650,000 program, based on funds it would have received under the Truman recommendation.

Under that plan, St. Vincent's would have received $997,136, the University Medical Center $599,000, and a Ft. Smith hospital, $50,000.

If Harris' amendment is passed by Congress this is what would happen to Arkansas' hospital program:

The state could use only about $650,000 for construction in Little Rock and the balance of the appropriation would be applied elsewhere, assuming there are other high priority projects.

Harris said he does not object to construction of the Little Rock hospital but he pointed out that Hope, Ark., has been trying unsuccessfully to get a share of the federal allotment for a hospital.

The congressman said the city has voted some $300,000 in bonds and is paying interest on them for its share in a 80-bed hospital costing about $800,000. Under this plan, Hope could be judged a high priority area and receive federal funds to start construction.

Transport Co. Exonerated in Fatality

By LEON HATCH

LITTLE ROCK (UP) — The Arkansas Supreme Court today upheld Garland Circuit Judge C. Floyd Huff in exonerating Strickland Transportation Co., Inc., of damages in a traffic fatality.

Donald M. Steuart was killed on May 7, 1952, when his automobile collided with a truck on Highway 7 between Arkadelphia and Hot Springs.

Helen Ruth Blagg and Marij St. Steuart, as co-administrators of Steuart's estate, filed suit against Strickland and others in connection with the death.

The truck involved in the accident was operated as a common carrier under a permit originally issued by Strickland.

When Strickland showed it had leased its permit for operation on Highway 7 to Hoskins Truck Service, Huff ordered the trial jury to dismiss Strickland as a defendant.

The cases against the other defendants which includes Hoskins and the truck driver ended in mistrial. Continued on Page Two

Even Thugs Are Searching for Kidnapers

CHICAGO (UP) — The "heat" rose today in the kidnapping of an Illinois state legislator, and there are reports that embarrassed Capone hoodlums were themselves searching for the missing lawmaker.

Sources close to crime syndicate leaders told newsmen that the gang lords had ordered their own search for state Rep. Clem Graver in the hope they could keep in disreputable the state administration and the FBI off their necks.

The Republican representative was snatched near his home in the tough West Side 15th district by three men Thursday night.

There has been no ransom note. The syndicate sources said it was "ridiculous" to think the kidnapping was ordered by big-time gangsters, who have just sweated through an investigation of the February, 1953 slaying of 31 Joseph Kuhich, 44, a fish market employee, was arrested for questioning in the case. Police said that when Kuhich was arrested April 20 on disorderly conduct charges Graver appeared at the police station and made bond for the man.

If You Have Anything to Sell You Have to Sell It to Women Because They Have the Money

By HAL BOYLE

NEW YORK 1/4 — "You know who has more money than anybody today? Women. What ever you got to sell now you got to sell it to women to make dough."

"You like that?"

"Yes, I like it."

"Why do you like it?"

"Because I got an idea."

"What's your idea?"

"My idea is two ideas. . . and maybe three. To start with, my first idea is that salesmen make more money than anybody, and that is why women sweat gold."

"And your second idea?"

"My second idea you can already figure — the best salesman is a sucker for another salesman."

The best salesman in the world today is a woman, because she sells the best product — herself. I mean this politely, and across our times it is true. And yet, because woman has sold herself so well, it makes her the more wide open as a customer. She's ready to buy."

"Well, that brings up to your third idea — if any. What do you have to sell women?"

"Something they don't have."

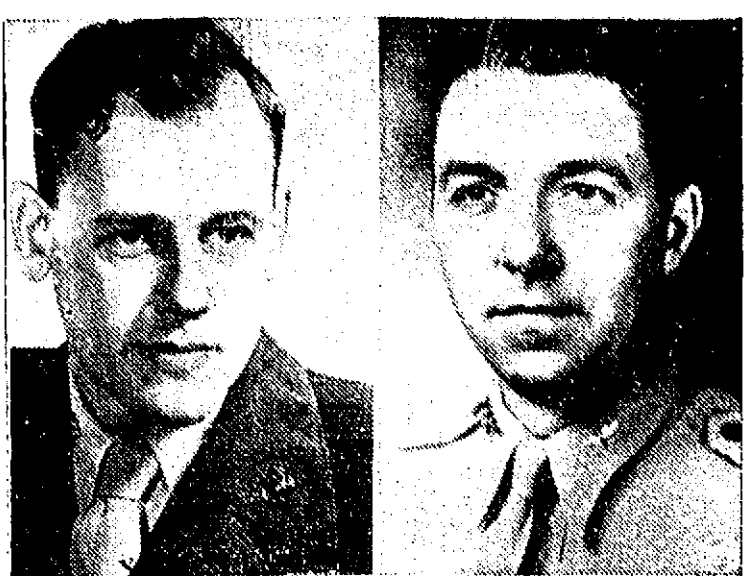

"Tell me what women don't have in this climate."

"First, let me tell you what they do have. They have husbands and children, and they are trying to make them both grow up faithful and loyal. They control the money, they have a long sense of duty, and they have responsibility."

"Nothing else?"

"Well, yes, they have the mixed adventure and excitement of trying both to boss and serve those they

Cut Taxes or Get Beat, GOP Warned

WASHINGTON (UP) — Rep. Daniel A. Reid (R-N.Y.) predicted today that if taxes are not cut this year, the Democrats will win back control of Congress in 1954.

Taking direct issue with President Eisenhower, Reid said a promise to cut taxes "was one of the main pledges made during the campaign" by GOP members of Congress "and the President too."

Eisenhower has said he never promised to reduce taxes right away.

"You'd be surprised the way the people resent the failure to keep that pledge," Reid said in a copyrighted interview published today by the magazine U.S. News and World Report. "If the people don't get this tax reduction now, you will have a Democratic Congress next time."

Reid, in a position as chairman of the House and Ways and Means Committee to influence taxes more than any other man in Congress, has been balking at two major provisions of Eisenhower's tax program:

1. A request that the excess profits tax on business, due to expire at the end of this month, be extended for six months to bring in an estimated 800 million dollars toward balancing the budget. Reid wants the tax to expire on schedule.

3. A request that a 10 per cent cut in individual income taxes be permitted to take effect next Jan. 1, as scheduled under present law. Reid wants to advance it to July 1.

New Mexican Prisoners Seize Warden

SANTA FE, N. M. (UP) — Armed with meat cleavers and knives, rioting convicts at the New Mexico penitentiary today seized Deputy Warden Ralph Tabash and nine guards as hostages.

Warden Morris Abram said the convicts, in a note addressed to him, demanded that Tabash and six prison guards be fired.

Gov. Edwin L. Mechem, who arrived at the prison soon after Abram announced the riot under way about 8 a. m., said he was told Homer Lee Gossett, notorious for "Houdini" escape attempts, was a leader of the uprising.

The 69-year-old stone-walled prison last was rocked by a riot less than seven months ago when 14 convicts seized eight guards at knife point in a demand that they be allowed to escape. That riot was quelled after 20 hours.

State Police Chief Joe Roach called on all available state police officers today to reinforce the prison guard force.

Reds in Biggest Push in Two Years Trying to Gain More Ground

Court Refuses Rosenbergs Execution Stay

WASHINGTON (UP) — The Supreme Court today refused to stay the executions of atom spies Julius and Ethel Rosenberg.

In a dramatic and highly unusual move just after the court's action was announced today John P. Finerty, one of the Rosenbergs' defense lawyers, arose and said he wished to file a petition for a writ of habeas corpus in the Rosenberg case.

Such a writ, if granted, means a hearing must be held to determine whether the person involved is being legally held.

Chief Justice Vinson told Finerty to file his petition with the clerk of the court and it would be promptly considered.

Finerty had told the nine black-robed justices:

"There is no time to go before the lower courts to obtain action in the case."

Stepping back and throwing out his hands Finerty said:

"It is absolutely necessary, your honors, that we get our point across before you. Unless this court acts and acts promptly on this petition the Rosenbergs will be dead before we can get the proper action completed. You understand we must also ask for clemency in this case."

Vinson several times interrupted Finerty to say that his time had expired — the chief justice's po

Ike Lashes Out Against Book Burners

WASHINGTON (UP) — President Eisenhower, speaking out against "the book burners," declared yesterday that Americans must fight communism "with something better, not try to conceal the thinking of our own people."

Eisenhower named no names, but his statement recalled the demand by Sen. McCarthy (R-Wis.) to the State Department, that the government withdraw from its overseas libraries books by authors who are known Communists or fellow travelers.

The President said even those with whose views we disagree have a right to have their views on record in public places — "or it is not America."

"Don't join the book burners," he told the graduating class at Dartmouth College in Hanover, N.H. "Don't think you are going to sweep something by concealing evidence that it ever existed, don't be afraid to go to the library and read every book, so long as that document does not offend our own ideas of decency. . . ."

"How will we defeat communism unless we know what it is, and why it has such an appeal for men. Why are so many people swearing allegiance to it? It is almost a religious belief in one of the nation's regions. We have got to fight it with something better, not try to conceal the think of our own people."

Korea Has Cost U. S. $101 Billion

By ELTON C. FAY

WASHINGTON (UP) — The United States has spent about $101,740,000,000 in the past three years on rearmament and the Korean War, the Defense Department estimated today.

During that time, Congress has granted the military about $155,570,000,000 in new obligatory authority — the right to contract for material and service.

With the help of the $101,740,000,000 expenditure, the Defense Department has formed a force of about 3 1/2 million men, started re-equipping and expanding the number of weapons for the Air Force, Army and Navy and fought the Korean War. This expenditure does not include money used by the Atomic Energy Commission for atomic bombs.

In a similar three-year period of World War II (the fiscal year 1942-44) inclusive expenditures were $102,787,000,000. In that time, the strength of the armed forces increased to about 11 millions. The war was being fought on fronts in Europe and the Pacific.

One thing demonstrated here is that the price of war, like costs for everything else, rose sharply over a decade. Everything, from the cost of a bomber to the salary of a soldier, is higher.

While that may be a primary factor, other elements enter. Questions have been raised about the business acumen and practices of the armed forces.

State to Get Tornado System

LITTLE ROCK (UP) — A tornado tracking system — which allows observers to spot atmosphere disturbances as far as 200 miles away — is expected to be in operation here by late summer.

Walter C. Hickman, U. S. Weather Bureau meteorologist, said the tornado storm spotting system basically is the same as those used by military aircraft spotters.

Fifteen such stations are in operation in eight states.

The Bureau hopes to set up a 35-state network within the next 10 years.

30,000 Pierce UN Lines; Peace Appears All Set

By GEORGE A. McARTHUR

SEOUL (UP) — Thirty thousand Communists ripped into Allied lines today, breaking through as deep as two miles in the night. Red offensive in two years.

Two South Korean divisions on the East-Central Front buckled under an assault by two fresh Chinese divisions — about 20,000 soldiers.

A few miles to the west, another 10,000 Red pierced Allied lines in several places before they were united in bloody trench fighting by infantrymen of the U. S. 3rd and South Korean 8th Divisions.

U. S. airmen flying shuttle missions dumped more than 2,225,000 pounds of bombs on the flaming 40-mile front. Smoke of battle could be seen for 80 miles.

It was the greatest Red drive since the 1951 spring offensive, and apparently intended to gain the Communists as much ground as possible before the impending assistance.

Fighting raged throughout the day and last reports described it as "fierce" meaning in full blast and undecided.

The Communists engulfed Capital Hill and Outpost Texas, south of Kumsong, and had the South Korean 5th and 8th Divisions retreating south toward the Nakdong River. Fragmentary dispatches from the front painted a bloody picture of reckless Chinese pouring over 3,000-foot peak which dominates the area held by the two ROK divisions.

Some Allied officers considered the offensive a Communist move to punish the South Koreans whose government has threatened to drive to the Manchurian border if a truce is signed. There was a possibility, too, that the Reds wanted one final victory before an armistice for prestige purposes.

The nearby Pukhan River and the great Incheon Reservoir, 22 miles south of the main battle area.

Postal Rate Increase to Be Proposed

WASHINGTON (UP) — The administration said today it will propose an across-the-board increase in all postal rates, a move that would probably raise the cost of first class letters from three to four cents if Congress approved.

Postmaster General Arthur W. Summerfield outlined the plan to Republican legislative leaders and President Eisenhower in the regular Monday morning White House conference. The plan is expected to be submitted to Congress this week.

House Speaker Joseph W. Martin, Jr., reporting later on the conference, said Summerfield did not disclose what specific rates would be proposed. But of the three-cent rate on first class letters, Martin said "I suppose it would go to four cents — no more."

The bride, given in marriage by her father, wore an exquisite gown of magnolia French lace and tulle. The pointed basque bodice of lace was designed with a wide picture neckline accented with finely pleated tulle. Long lace sleeves tapered to petal points over her hands. The bouffant floor length skirt of lace was applied onto a deep pleated tulle ruffle. Imported illusion fell from a seed pearl coronation crown in misty tiers to her fingertips. She carried a cascade of stephanotis and lilies-of-the-valley centered with a velvet-throated white orchid and tied with white satin ribbon streamers and loops of seed pearls.

Miss Hazel Scarborough of Foreman attended the bride as maid of honor. She chose a balcony length gown of pale yellow net over yellow tulle, designed with starched net and tulle and full tiered skirt with matching net stole. A yellow velvet ribbon Juliet cap, yellow linen opera pumps and short white gloves completed the ensemble. She carried a chintilly lace fan to which was fastened green tied daisies tied with yellow nylon tulle and satin ribbon streamers.

Julia Smith, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Hollis A. Smith of De Queen, served her cousin as flower girl. She wore yellow net over tulle with a sweetheart neckline and full tiered skirt. Short white gloves and a miniature crescent of daisies completed her costume. She carried yellow rose petals in a white lacquered straw basket lined with starched yellow net and trimmed with yellow satin ribbons and tiny yellow rosebuds.

The bridesmaids wore costumes identical to that of the maid of honor and carried chintilly lace fans to which were fastened yellow tied daisies tied with yellow nylon tulle and satin ribbon. They were Miss Jimmie Lou Anderson and Miss Patsy Sue Bogard of Foreman; Miss Mary McGuyre of Little Rock; Mrs. John Earl Stice of Norcross, Oklahoma; Miss Barbara Rhodes of Honolulu; Miss Carol Jean Fulton of San Antonio, Texas; and Miss Dianne Newsom of Lubbock, Texas.

The bride's mother wore a charcoal gray tulle gown with pink accessories and a corsage of cymbidium orchids. The groom's mother wore an afternoon dress of light blue changeable tulle with white accessories and a corsage of cymbidium orchids.

Immediately after the wedding a reception was held on the lawn of the home of the bride's parents. Guests were greeted at the door by Miss Sandra Lee Hill and received by the bride and groom and their parents.

Mrs. Elmer LaVoice of Foreman registered the guests. Others assisting at the reception were members of the wedding party and Mrs. Hiram Newton, Mrs. Lloyd Reid, Mrs. Jim Anderson, and Mrs. Harry Scarborough, all of Foreman.

The bride's table was covered with a bouffant three-tiered white net cloth over magnolia satin. Pale yellow satin ribbon was draped in graceful swags around the sides of the table with a large yellow and white satin bow placed at the center front of the cloth. An arrangement of pastel flowers and greenery in a crystal bowl centered the table and was tied with pale yellow satin ribbons. Satin streamers led to small matching nosegays placed on each corner of the table.

Miss Jimmie Lou Anderson and Miss Barbara Rhodes served the five tiered wedding cake which was surrounded with green and yellow flowers and topped with a solid mass of shaded yellow roses. Miss Dianne Newsom and Miss Carol Jean Fulton served green frosted punch from a crystal punch bowl.

Following the reception the bride and groom left for a short trip along the Gulf Coast after which they will be at home at 300 Edgewood, Hope. For travel the bride chose a beige orlon suit with white linen accessories and a white horseshair braided toque with mocha veiling. She wore a white orchid corsage.

Miss McGuyre attended Southern Methodist University and was affiliated with Delta Gamma Sorority. She is the granddaughter of the late Rev. DOROTHY DIX

Domestic Dictator

Dear Miss Dix: I am 21 years old and ashamed to admit I am living with a young man. He is a wonderful person in some ways, and when he's in a good mood there's nothing he won't do for me. But he's funny in other things. Although I keep the house very clean, he's always finding fault. If I suggest going out, he says I can go, but I'll find my clothes on the doorstep when I return. I think I love him, but I'm beginning to be doubtful about it. Can you give me a little advice?

Answer: Well, I can understand a wife standing for this high-handed treatment, but when a girl submits to it without benefit of wedding ring, she's stretching meekness a bit too far. You are actually little more than a chattel, Jay, firmly under the thumb of a man who may leave you tomorrow. You have lost enough self-respect through your manner of living; a few years of bowing down to the tyranny under which you now exist will rob you of every vestige of decency.

Certainly there is no advice I or any other responsible person can give you except to leave the man at once. You're young enough to make a new start in life, and old enough to face the world, get a his lesson, I think you should take a chance on a reconciliation. However, it would be wise if you both went to your pastor, or a marriage counselor, for a personal consultation before making a decision.

Dear Miss Dix: I have been married just three months, and am living with my family. My husband is in service, but will be out in a few weeks when we'll go house-keeping on our own. The trouble is that he wants to move near his family and I know I won't be happy there. One member of his family made a remark about me once that hurt very much and I can't forget it. They are all very nice when I visit them.

Answer: Don't begin your married life with bitterness over a remark that was made some time ago. People often say things in job, and create a decent future. Aside from the sordidness of its content, your letter is well written and indicates a girl of some intelligence. Use your brains to better advantage than being the brow-beaten subject of an unprincipled man. You admit you're ashamed of living with this man so you haven't lost all conscience. While you still have the attributes of an intelligent woman, straighten out your life. Moving to another city and making an entirely new start is the best thing to do.

Dear Miss Dix: I am the mother of two children. My husband deserted us for another woman a year ago and obtained a Mexican divorce. Now, he feels that he has made a mistake and has asked me to take him back. I am still very much in love with him, but I am afraid I may have to go through the same thing again.

MRS. E. C.
Answer: Since neither of you will be happy apart, and since your husband has apparently learned haste that they really don't mean or that they regret later. It's a grave mistake to harbor grievances over such remarks. Since your husband refuses to give in, and has some sound reasons for wanting to live near his people, you'd better have some pretty good counterattacks.

Way Over Nashville

Hope Legionnaires won their seventh straight league game Friday night with an 11 to 7 victory over the Nashville Cubs.

The visitors took the lead in the first but Hope soon went ahead on a single by Gary Anderson and a home run by Manager Marty "Hogman." Hope tallied two more in the next two innings and the Cubs tied it up in the fifth scoring on four walks and a hit batsman.

In their half of the fifth Bob White blasted out a homer over the right field fence and in the seventh picked up two more on White's double and Philogam's single. In the eighth Hope tallied four on a double by Bill Gantner, Hogman's and Anderson's singles and another home run by White.
Nashville tallied single runs in the eighth and ninth.

Donz Stevens was the winner and now has three straight wins against no losses. Woodson was the loser.
Tonight Hope travels to Mineral Springs for a game with the Flyers.
Nix will probably hurl.

Indians and Tigers Swap

Players

CLEVELAND, O. (UP)—The

Cleveland Indians and the Detroit

Tigers today negotiated a four-year player swap involving shortstop Ray Boone and three pitchers from Cleveland in exchange for right-handed pitcher Art Hout-man, another pitcher, Catcher Joe

Ginsberg and a second baseman.

The Indians gave up Pitcher

ers, rookies Al Abert and Dick

Weik. In return they received utility infielder Owen Friend and veteran left-hander Bill Wright, along with Houtman and Ginsberg.

It was a straight player deal, with no cash involved.

The key men in the transaction were Boone and Houtman. Boone was Lou Boudreau's successor at shortstop for Cleveland, but never lived up to expectations. He was out much of last season with injuries, and was replaced by smooth-fielding George Strickland on Memorial Day after knee trouble benched him again.

SPORTS ROUNDUP

By GAYLE TALBOT

NEW YORK, N. Y.—Sports fans who revel in the superlatives of the giddy 20's when Uncle Sam's athletes rose to world heights in virtually every branch of endeavor, will ever be convinced that the late Bill Tilden was the greatest tennis player yet seen on this planet.

They are equally certain that Jack Dempsey was the best fist fighter, Bobby Jones the best golf player, Earle Sando the best jockey.
Habe Ruth the best ballplayer. In some instances the faith of the Charleston set undoubtedly is well placed. Concerning Tilden there is at least reasonable doubt.

Having seen Big Bill only after he was well past his best, we cannot speak with impressive authority. We have, however, seen all the good ones since his heyday and have talked many an hour with experts who watched Tilden play up his championships, and our conclusion is that there have been, and are today, better tennis players than the famous Philadelphia wasp.

There's no way of proving it, of course, but we firmly believe that the Jack Koramer of today could have walloped Tilden at his peak.
We further believe that Fred Perry or other man has, or is likely to,

of England could have done the same, and perhaps Donald Budge.
In other words, our contention is that the caliber of tennis has improved in the past 20 or 30 years, and the more honest of the old-timers say there is no doubt of it.

For instance, we were told within the past year by a famous player of another country who met Tilden many times that Bill did not have a really good overhead stroke. Having moved with the times, this internationalist of a quarter-century ago said this would be the best of the moderns.

"Another thing," he added, "Bill had an awful lot of trouble with those Frenchmen, especially with René Lacoste, who could keep knocking the ball back at him.
Both Lacoste and Henri Cochet trimmed him regularly from 1920 on. I would say Bill was about as good then as he ever had been.
He was a remarkable physical specimen."

There we have one of the main reasons for the sort of immortality Tilden attained in his lifetime.
Without a trace of a doubt he played fine tennis longer than any other man has, or is likely to,

OUT OF DOORS with

A Hair of the Dog
By JOE STETSON
Dog Editor

"Now we can begin to look for it," complained Jed. "Every spring we have the same deal all over again—all over everything—furniture, rugs, clothes—there won't be a place in the house that isn't covered with dog hair!"

Jed loves his dog and probably wouldn't raise an eyebrow over the shedding, but his wife is a pretty meticulous gal and doesn't hesitate to swear all over Jed when his dog presents a problem.

She's right, too! You can't expect a housewife to be happy if her guests arrive with blue serge suits and leave with fur coats.

"What can I do?" he asked. "I have asked dog breeders, read all the canine gossip columns, changed the dog's diet and what have you, but every spring it's the same deal."

In fact, he's done everything but the simple, obvious thing.

Why not try getting a good brush grooming glove or whatever seems to do the job best and see that the dog's coat is cleaned? Help him to do all his shedding out of doors and he won't shed indoors.

As often as the idea is expressed that a good three-minute brush-ing once a day will remove all dead hair and help keep a dog's coat clean, too few people follow this simple, helpful advice.

Hint is the answer. Once you have gotten into the simple continue of going over a dog by hand for a minute or two each day you will find that you derive a great deal of satisfaction from it. Automatically you check the dog's eyes, ears, skin, condition and toenails as well as coat. If he has any scratches, or vermin, you become aware of it before the condition becomes serious.

Besides knowing that the dog is clean you can be satisfied he is in good condition in other respects.
You get to know your dog better in every way.

All dogs shed and they shed all year round. True, there is more shedding in the spring and bitches shed more after whelping, but year-round care pays excellent dividends. It takes much less time to clean a dog than to clean up hair he has shed. Every minute you spend will save the wife 10, and you'll keep her out of your hair, too.

Communists Take the Long View

By JAMES MARLOW

WASHINGTON (AP) — It's not a happy thought, but despite all this money to save South Korea from the Communists, they may in the end take it over.

Not necessarily by attack from without. They tried that and failed. But by a coup from within. That would be soon. But the Communists take the long view. A few years more or less don't matter.

They can wait. They have an obstacle in like a stone in a river. If they can't dislodge it by a hard push, they flow around it and eat away at it.

When they tried their hard push on South Korea, no doubt they thought they could overwhelm it by the sudden fierceness of their attack before the United States or the United Nations could act to stop them.

Since they made a mistake, and paid heavily for it in lives, material and effort, they may not try the same tactics again once a price is reached. Why should they? They can get what they want without fighting a war?

One obvious way would be infiltration not only among South Korean citizens but in the government itself until suddenly the Communist clique felt strong enough to seize power, as happened in Czechoslovakia.

That couldn't happen in Korea as long as U. S. troops stay there. But they won't be there forever. They'll stay while the ice lasts. They'll leave if the U. S. and China reach agreement on withdrawing their forces from North and South Korea.

And it couldn't happen so long as a stubborn old Syngman Rhee is president and continues to run the country with his usual iron hand. But he won't live forever.

The mood of Rhee's successors and of the South Korean people themselves may not always remain so fiercely anti-Communist as now. Under severe conditions — like a bad depression — no one could predict what the South Koreans or anyone else might do.

It is a gloomy picture. It may turn out this way at all. But it is a possibility and, because it is, the U. S. will have to think about South Korea for years to come.

McMath to Speak at Rosston Day Celebration. Former Governor Bid McMath will be principal speaker at the Rosston Day celebration and barbecue at Rosston next Tuesday night, according to the committee making plans for the gigantic highway celebration.

Members of the committee who represent the Chamber of Commerce, Kiwanis, Lions, and Rotary Clubs of Prescott, voted to ask the former governor to make the principal speech in dedicating the new highway just completed to Rosston since it was programmed and authorized during his administration.

Other visitors who are expected to attend the celebration include Olen Hendrix, of Antioch, former highway commissioner, from this district; Truman Baker of Searcy, former chairman of the Highway Commission; and Henry Woods, the former governor's administrative assistant and presently McMath's law partner in Little Rock.

The barbecue, which will be held on the Baptist church grounds in Rosston starting at 6:30 p.m., will be prepared for an expected crowd of five or six hundred residents of Rosston and Highway 19, and visitors.

Thinking about it won't be enough. A simple military alliance between the U. S. and South Korea won't be enough because a promise to help the small republic in case of attack is no barrier, by itself, against Communist infiltration.

For that reason this country may have to forge other links with the South Koreans, such as prolonged aid. Even that is no guarantee that the South Koreans will always produce the kind of government this country wants.

The U. S. has poured billions into Italy, to rehabilitate it and keep it away from the Communists, but in the recent elections there the pro-American Premier Alcide De Gasperi barely squeaked through to victory.

The Italian people so divided their votes, ranging all the way from the Communists and Socialists to the Monarchists, that the net result was to weaken De Gasperi.

Indochina King Leaves Cambodia

SAIGON, Indochina. (AP) — King Norodom Sihanouk of the little Indochinese kingdom of Cambodia has fled into exile in Thailand in an effort to force France to grant fuller freedom to his Communist-threatened country.

The 31-year-old monarch slipped unexpectedly over the border by car Saturday and arrived in Bangkok yesterday with a retinue of 27 persons. Before his flight, he transferred full power to his Prime Minister, Pen Nouth, who remained behind in the Cambodian capital, Phnom Penh. The King gave no indication he intended to abdicate.

French sources here said Cambodia was calm but troops had been alerted as a precautionary measure.

Norodom yesterday expressed willingness to continue friendship with the French but complained that they had stalled in negotiations for the complete independence of Cambodia.

He said, however, he was confident that the French would eventually grant independence.

There will be a fish fry Friday night, June 19, at the Legion Hut. Bus transportation will be available. The public is invited.

Pay more? What for?

You don't have to pay costly-car prices for costly-car comforts. Ford brings you everything [and we mean everything] you've ever wanted in a car, at a price that's well within your reach! And according to recent surveys, a Ford returns more of its original cost when sold than any other car at any price!

Here are a few of the "Worth More" advantages you'll find in the '53 Ford:

- 1. A V-8 engine—powerful and smooth! Ford's famous high-compression V-8 is a leader in quiet, flexible, economical performance. Ford, remember, has built more V-8's than all other makers combined—over 13 million!
- 2. America's most economical Six engine! If it's a Six you want, Ford offers you the high-compression, low-friction Mileage Maker... the engine which, with optional Overdrive, won over all other cars, regardless of size or weight, in this year's Mobilgas Economy Run! And it's yours for the same kind of money that buys less modern sixes in other cars.
- 3. America's finest and most versatile automatic drive! Fordomatic Drive is the "automatic" which gives you both the get-up-and-go of automatic gears and the smoothness of a fluid torque converter. If you choose Fordomatic, you will find that it makes all your driving easier... more relaxing.
- 4. Automatic gas savings! Ford's Automatic Power Pilot (on Six and V-8) meters just the right amount of gas, times ignition precisely, burns fuel evenly and completely. You get full high-compression performance from every drop of gas—regular or premium.
- 5. America's newest and finest power steering! Ford's Master-Guide power steering gives you new ease, stability and safety in guiding your car on smooth roads or rough. Your car gains in sure-footed roadability and you expend less effort in driving—and parking.

- 6. Largest choice of models in the low-price field! Ford alone gives you a choice of 18 different models... a SIX or V-8... Fordomatic, Conventional or Overdrive... the widest variety of body, color and upholstery combinations. You can practically "design" your own Ford!
- 7. A body that's the style-setter! Only Ford in its field gives you the advantages of a hull-tight Crestmark Body... the trend-maker in design and beauty. Ford's body is the longest and Ford's trunk, the largest. You enjoy more usable space.
- 8. New driving conveniences! Ford's first in its field with such "Worth More" features as easier-acting, suspended pedals that eliminate floor holes... foam rubber cushions on front and rear seats in all models... and convenient Center-Fill Fueling.

- 9. An automatically controlled ride! When you Test Drive this Ford, notice how the wide front tread (widest in the low-price field) takes tilt out of turns... gives you a more level ride. With new "balanced suspension," new spring and shock absorber action and new rubber compression bumpers, road shock in the front end alone is reduced up to 80%.
- 10. It's worth more when you sell it! An impartial survey of used car prices proved that Fords return a greater proportion of their original cost than any other cars in America. It's another fact to add to Ford's reputation as the "Worth More" car.

But don't take our word for it. Stop in and Test Drive this Ford for yourself. We predict you'll be sold before you're in second! It was true last year and it's even truer this year: you can pay more, but you can't buy better, than Ford.
